At Castlecomer Discovery Park we are immersed in nature every day. With over 80 acres of woodland and lakes, we understand the benefits of outdoor learning and how getting out of your comfort zone can inspire you to exceed perceived limits.

What we do:

- We are passionate about inspiring and motivating groups to achieve their full potential.
- Our tried and tested challenges focus on enhancing team dynamics and addressing core business objectives of developing leadership skills, motivation, innovative thinking and improved decision making.
- We make sure that fun and enjoyment are core to the day

Tailor made for you

We understand that every business has its own objectives, we can work with you to develop a tailor made programme which will help you meet your defined objectives.

What we offer

Exclusive Catering Options

We know that a big part of your day will be having fun and getting to know more about each other in an informal way, and food plays a big part in that.

Team Challenge

This is one of our most popular activities for breaking down barriers and getting teams communicating and learning about each other in a fun and energised way. It involves our trained and motivational instructors delivering a number of games specifically devised to enhance communication, coordination and problem solving.

Boost team dynamics and build team spirit through this activity which promotes communication, planning, physical and strategic thinking.

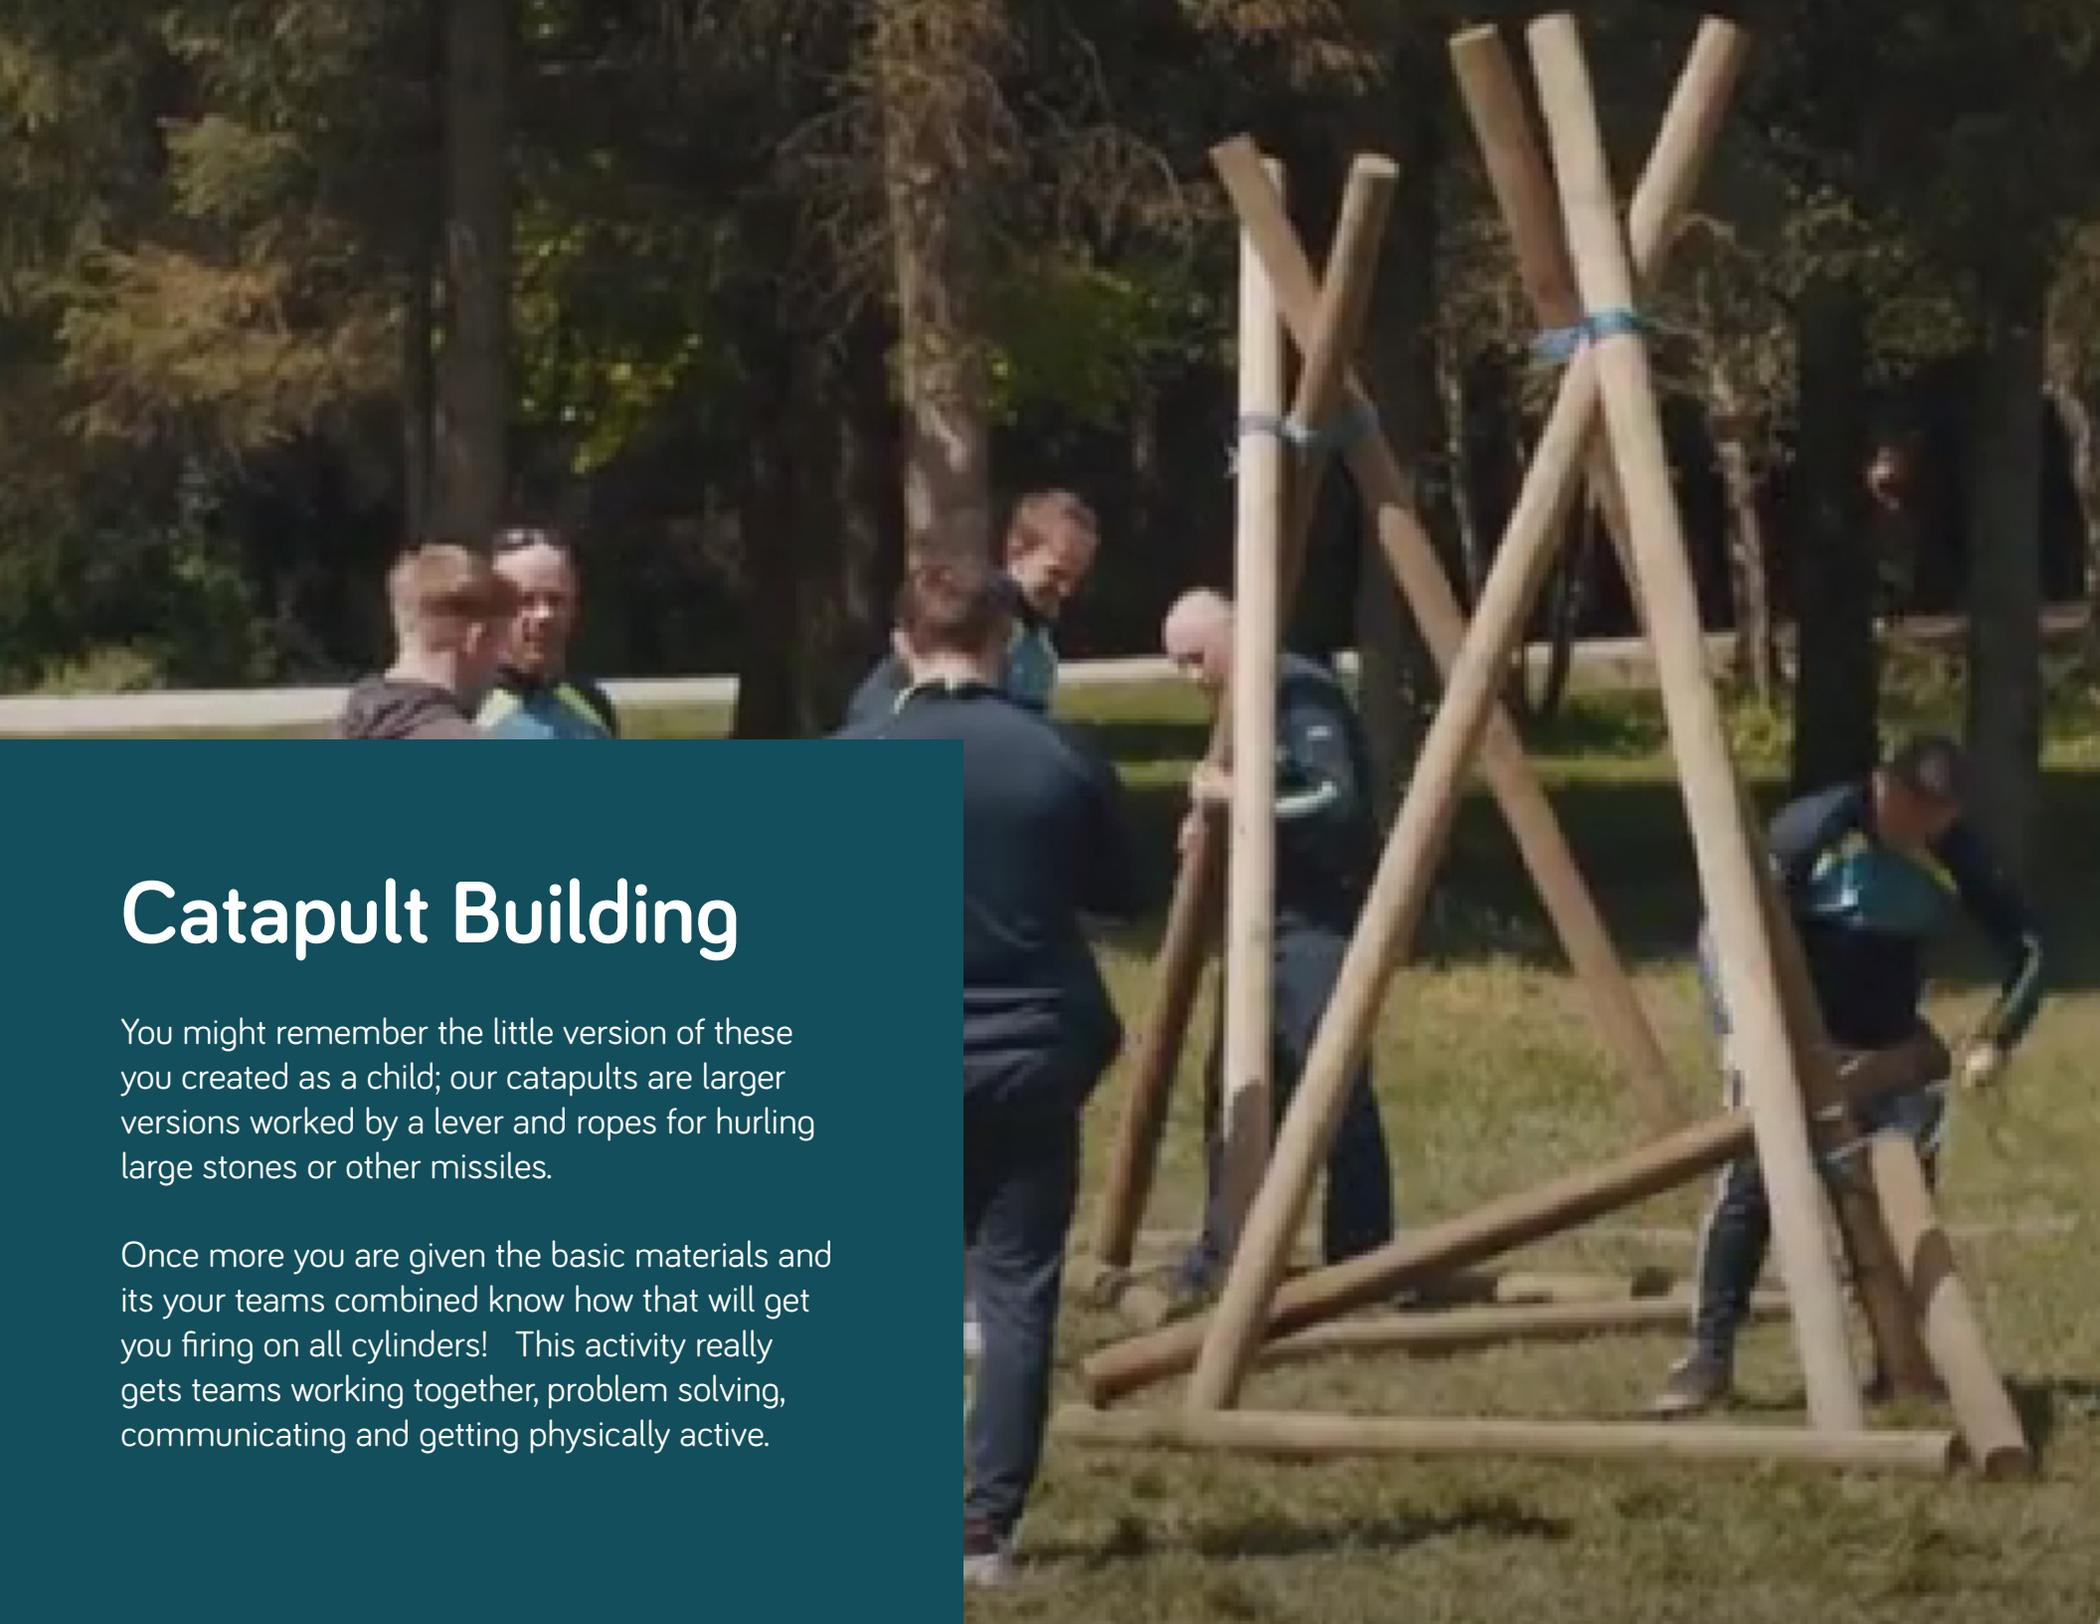

Octagon High Ropes & Ireland's Longest Zip Wire

For many companies team building days out are about getting employees out of their normal environment, taking time to restore the batteries and getting staff to see things from a different perspective.

We highly recommend our Octagon High Ropes Challenge for those looking to get out of their comfort zone. Set on an octagonal frame over two levels, our high ropes course presents a series of challenges in the form of nets, ropes, wooden bridges etc. Our instructors will devise games to encourage team dynamics.

We finish up with a trip down Ireland's longest zip line. It is 300 metres long and 35 metres over the ground at its highest point. Visitors zip over our stunning woodland, two lakes and 17th Century hand-restored bridge. Groups leave feeling exhilarated.

A group of people are gathered in a park-like setting, working together to build a large wooden catapult. The structure is made of several long, light-colored wooden poles. Some poles are vertical, while others are angled to form a triangular frame. The poles are secured together with blue and black straps. In the background, there are trees and a grassy area. A group of people, including men and women, are standing around the structure, some looking at it and others appearing to be in the process of building or adjusting it. The scene is outdoors and appears to be a team-building or educational activity.

Catapult Building

You might remember the little version of these you created as a child; our catapults are larger versions worked by a lever and ropes for hurling large stones or other missiles.

Once more you are given the basic materials and it's your team's combined know-how that will get you firing on all cylinders! This activity really gets teams working together, problem solving, communicating and getting physically active.

Axe Throwing

Try Ireland's latest craze, Axe Throwing.

This invigorating activity is carried out in a controlled environment and with our trained staff to guide you.

This activity is a great stress reliever as well as bringing out the competitive side of teams.
